Session 1

Task 1:

Create a webpage containing a header, an image, and a paragraph which ends at certain point and then there is a button which says "read more", when we click it, it should show us the rest of the paragraph with a button at the end which says "read less", when we click it, it returns to the previous state. For example:

Task 2:

Create a webpage which contains a header, a paragraph, and an image which takes me to another page when we click on it. The second page should contain a form with input fields and labels as shown in the following 2 pages.
